New Years blessings from Nenana Alaska

We had a white Christmas, did you? Of course, when you live in the 'Arctic White House' it seems every celebration has a white hue to it! We've never been the kind to make resolutions to begin a year but we do have a tradition of looking back at the year, it helps us to see how God continues to care for us and remember to thank Him for it.

2005

- Natalie Joy born in February
- 100+ hours safely flown in N412EP
- Continued bible studies with "bush" families
- Moose meat in the freezer
- A refreshing retreat in October where we met other Alaska missionaries
- Our ministry neighbors radio station KIAM broadcasting 20+ years from Nenana
- 14x20 cabin addition
  - 145% increase in square footage
  - 24 volunteer laborers
  - Over 270 plates of food served

As we were looking back over the year we couldn't help but think about our last ten years. It was May 1995 when Adam came to Alaska to be the pilot/mechanic for Voice For Christ Ministries (VFCM) and Lyndy came up in October that same year to be a "DJ". We were married July '96 and if someone told us then that we would be a family of five traveling throughout the "bush," with Adam as a circuit-riding preacher we would have laughed. We think about everything God has done in our almost ten years and are humbled by the mighty God we serve.

What we've been doing lately...

Is summer still considered 'lately'? Well, we have to give it a few lines because of all the great people that came our way to help build the cabin addition. By the time leaves began their autumn change (that's late August) our new wing was dried-in. A church workgroup, families, a contractor; it took all kinds to make it happen this summer and everyone worked hard with us. We had planned to be moving into our additional space by September but life and money have prevented that and we're on the pay-as-you-hammer plan now. The bathroom is the current project; stairs, wiring, flooring and interior log stain are next. The list of jobs is being checked off and we've already planned where everything will go when it's wrapped up.

Branching out

With a new baby this spring and our summer filled with building, we've spent the year surviving through the sleepless nights and flying sawdust, keeping up with our ministry trips but not able to branch into new areas. As the cabin moves toward completion and Natalie turns one in February we're looking to the future, curious to see where God wants our branches to extend. The spiritual growth of friends we visit with in the 'bush' is encouraging, and we're currently flying as much as we can afford every month, so we pray with us about our possibilities.

It's going up again?!

As of January 8th US postage rates are increasing to 39¢ for a first-class stamp. That reminded us that our website (www.TheWhitePagesOnline.com) is a deal that can't be beat with multiple pages of pictures, as well as most of our past prayer letters and web updates. Have you ever wondered what our weather is like? You can find that out and watch a few video clips of the airplane, listen to Sabrina on the Bluegrass Hour plus know our latest news when we post an update. We know that some of you do not have access to the Internet, so we will keep sending these paper letters but we know others prefer to be paperless and you can do that on our email/web only list. We try hard to not let you fall through the cracks so let us hear from you which means of communications works best and update us of your happenings and contact info, we love to hear from you.

On the fly...

- Transmission rebuild on Suburban was successful
- N412EP is on skis for the winter
- Our good safety record brought lower aviation insurance premiums for next year
- The Bluegrass Hour continues to have good feedback
- Natalie's crawling & standing
- Miriam turned 3 10/15
- Sabrina turned 5 12/7
